ACCOMAC COURT HOUSE, VA.

SATURDAY, JUNE 1, 1901.

Entered at the Postoffice at Accomac C. H., Va., as second-class matter.

Attorney-General Montague is now in the lead in the gubernatorial contest and advises from many sections of the State seem to indicate that he will be the winner in the race. The prediction is justified in the fact, that the masses are for him and are taking more interest in the contest than they have in any for many years. This week, Prince William county voicing the sentiment of its people declared for him, Danville controlled. It was generally conceded by the machine, cut loose from it and gave him her delegates, Lynchburg, despite the persuasion and protests of her favorite son, Hon. John W. Daniel, spoke for him with no uncertain sound, Norfolk county, defying a dirty combination of republicans and democrats in the interest of R. C. Marshall, instructed five delegates for him and Essex speaks for him to day. That Mr. Montague will not only continue to lead but secure enough delegates to give him the nomination seems now almost too apparent to be questioned. Believing as a large majority of the people do that the contest is one between them and the machine and that Mr. Montague is leading them in the fight, they realize that they must win or go down with him and there can be no doubt that the victory will be with them. The tide seems to have set in for the undoing of the machine too strongly for anyone to stem it or doubt what the result will be. Senator Daniel tried to do it at Lynchburg but with the fast hold he has upon the people of his home made a signal failure. Senator Martin too seems to have lost faith in the machine, and it is stated, has "dropped out of the fight." All the signs in fact seem propitious for a victory for the people and no one should doubt it unless he has lost faith in the virtue and intelligence of the people and would commit all the affairs of our State government into the hands of a favored few instead of to those whose servants they are or ought to be.

One of the ways in which the machine hopes to win in the gubernatorial contest in Virginia is told by the Brunswick Gazette in the following:

"Recently a gentleman of character and intelligence, a resident of Staunton, Va., while on a visit to this town, had a conversation with a member of the Gazette's staff, in which he stated that he knew it to be a fact that the railroad were making a hand in the contest for the Governorship, and were giving all possible assistance to Mr. Swanson. He stated that a few days before he had met a friend of his, who exhibited to him a pass issued by the Southern Railroad over its entire system in this State, saying: 'See here what Mr. Swanson gave me.' He said, moreover that the Southern Railroad was issuing passes to persons known to be zealous in their support of Mr. Swanson's claims. The gentleman to whom we refer is a supporter of Mr. E. C. Hoels, but is for Mr. Montague as second choice. He authorized us to publish this statement as a matter of justice to the other candidates, and to call upon him in case it is controverted or denied, when he will make public the name of the holder and the number of the pass."

The Richmond Times commenting on a communication published in that paper on Sunday, in regard to the Eastern Shore, though the half was not told in that article of its "fine men and fair women," climate, productivity of its soil &c., says of the goodly land which we possess:

That is indeed a wonderful little peninsula and its achievements have been great. Its waters produce the finest fish and oysters in the world, and the ducks which feed on its wild celery are among the delectable articles known to the epicure. Its lands produce big potatoes and luscious melons, and honey fairly drips from every vine and fig tree. It is a land of plenty and each and every gathering season—and they come on the Eastern Shore almost every month in the year—is a very festival of its increase. Accomac and Northampton could give the Promised Land milk and honey and still make a showing that would put it beyond compare. It is not surprising that it is like this should produce fine men and fair women. The land is incapable of producing anything of an inferior quality. Here is one of nature's garden spots, and all its products, of whatever kind, are equal to the best.

Twenty-three hundred and five members of the United Confederate Veterans, representing 1,331 camps of the organization, assembled in Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday, in Confederate Hall, for their eleventh annual reunion. The convention in point of oratory, enthusiasm and all other respects was a most brilliant success. Before the meeting of the convention in Confederate Hall the Ladies Memorial Association signified the first day of the reunion by holding a memorial meeting for Jefferson Davis. Gen. John B. Gordon, as commander-in-chief, and the other officers of the United Confederate Veterans were re-elected with enthusiasm.

J. O. Alwood, chairman of the Prohibition State Committee, has issued a call for a convention in Richmond on July 19 to nominate candidates for Governor and other State offices. The call is bitterly severe on the Virginia State Canvassing Board, which is charged with suppressing the Prohibition vote in other campaigns.

The birthday of Jefferson Davis will be celebrated on June 4 by the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter at Colours.

Virginia News.

The Virginia Oyster Planters' Association will hold a general meeting at Hampton, July 3rd.

Augusta county and the city of Staunton have been selected as the site for the new State Capitol building. The site is located on the north side of the city, near the intersection of the Shenandoah and Potomac rivers.

Two students at Washington and Lee University have been selected as teachers in the Philippines.

The retail liquor dealers of Richmond have agreed to use every effort to suppress the sale of intoxicants on the Sabbath.

The complexion of the Virginia Constitutional Convention will stand as follows: Democrats, 88; Republicans, 11, and one independent.

Within a week the citizens of Norfolk have raised over $5,000 as a fund for the relief of the fire sufferers at Jacksonville, in aid of the fire sufferers.

The Jefferson Hotel is to be rebuilt, and without delay. The rebuilding of the hotel has been made by the owners of the property.

A penalty of over $300,000 will probably be exacted of the Newport News Company for failure to complete the battleship Missouri on contract time.

The Democratic primary in Loudoun county resulted in a complete victory for Montague for Governor. He will name the 27 delegates from that county.

The Democrats of King William county, in mass meeting Tuesday, elected six delegates to the gubernatorial convention, who will cast the five votes of the county for A. J. Montague.

The Frederick County Board of Health has asked the Government and State aid in checking a mysterious disease which is killing off live stock in the county and which resembles hydrophobia.

Two sets of delegates to the State Democratic Convention were nominated Thursday by warring factions in Washington district, Norfolk county. One delegation was headed by Marshall and the other for Montague.

At the municipal election in Staunton, Va., Frederick county, for a week, and a single vote was cast for any of the candidates, so that when the present officers' term expires in July next the town will be without a government.

Montague carried Danville by 77 majority. The vote stands: Montague, 939; Swanson, 882. The Montague men are very enthusiastic, as they were not at all confident of their success there, where Swanson has many influential friends.

At a meeting of the Board of Fisheries on Thursday, Captain W. E. Hedges, the veteran commodore of the Virginia oyster navy, was reappointed to command the new oyster gunboat Nannah, in the face of considerable opposition from half a dozen other aspirants.

The entire issue of $90,000 of 4 per cent. bonds of Rockingham county has been awarded to the National City Bank of Staunton at 102. The bonds are payable $5,000 a year until the whole issue is redeemed. At the premium realized the loan is floated at a net rate of 34 per cent.

The fight for Governor is growing quite bitter, and it is thought there will be a number of serious personal difficulties before it is over. Both sides are exceedingly active, and there is much feeling which is growing warmer every day. Personalities are becoming more numerous every day.

In the primary held at Lynchburg, Monday, for the selection of delegates to the gubernatorial convention, A. J. Montague carried the city by a large plurality, defeating Congressman C. A. Swanson by about three to one. The vote was: Montague, 1,393; Swanson, 472; E. C. Hoels, 10; Marshall, 4. Montague's plurality was 797.

On June 12 a board representing all of the leading labor organizations in Virginia will meet to consider the gubernatorial campaign. This body, it is said, will sit until it makes one of the candidates for Governor. One of the most prominent labor leaders in this State predicts that this will be Montague.

The Episcopal Council of the Southern Diocese of Virginia met Tuesday morning in Grace Memorial Church, Lynchburg, Bishop A. M. Randolph presiding. The Rev. C. B. Bryan, of Hampton, Va., preached the opening sermon to the council, which is composed of 150 delegates present, representing both clergy and laity.

The Republicans will probably nominate a full State ticket. This was previously decided Tuesday night by the State Committee of that party. The committee of which Park Agnew is chairman, has issued a call for a convention to assemble at Charlottesville, August 1. Resolutions offered by Gen. Jas. Walker recommending the nomination of a full ticket were adopted. Among those mentioned for nomination for Governor are General Walker, Colonel Hoge and Jacob Yost, Jr.

A few days ago Dempsey Daniel Butler, colored, died at Camden, N. J., leaving an estate of $200,000, represented by 60 or more houses and lots in Camden. His property was bequeathed to a number of charitable institutions. Butler was born free in Lynchburg 80 years ago, and when a boy went to North Carolina, where he traded in slaves. Subsequently he went to Camden, where he became a successful business man. He has in Lynchburg two nephews, Daniel and Royal P. Butler, who have employed counsel to examine the will with a view to bringing suit to have it set aside.

Attorney-General A. J. Montague addressed the Montague Club and a crowd numbering about 1,000 in Danville Friday night of last week. He went for "the man" with his sleeves rolled up. He said that he was in politics before those claiming to have made him were in it. He defended his advocacy of the primary election, saying that he favored it in the Norfolk convention. "I have been called a heretic," said Mr. Montague, "because I believe in the election of a United States Senator by the people. I've got nothing for my friends and hold out no promises to them. I've paid my personal and political debts," he continued, "and don't intend to lie down and be walked on and kicked about for past favors."

You may as well expect to run a steam engine without water as to find an active, energetic man with a torpid liver and may know that his liver is torpid when he does not feel his food or feels dull and languid after eating, often has headache and sometimes dizziness. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will restore his liver to its normal functions, renew his vitality, improve his digestion and make him feel like a new man. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at Wm. P. Bell & Co.'s drug store, Accomac C. H., Va.
